

CBA RAPID RESPONSE TRAINING SESSION

Interested in reporting loans to the credit bureaus?

Want to know some best practices in loan reporting?

Need to better understand what is required for Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) compliance?

➔ Credit Builders Alliance is pleased to offer a free loan reporter training session to discuss the detailed process of reporting your borrowers' loans to the credit bureaus and how CBA assists in that process

➔ Trainings focus on requirements to set up loan reporting, review of Fair Credit Reporting Act regulations, and best practices in loan reporting.

➔ Trainings are conducted by CBA and/or a master trainer from our Rapid Response Training roster, comprised of experienced individuals from among CBA's active reporter members!

Training details:

For more information

Contact us:

membership@
creditbuildersalliance.org

CBA is an innovative nonprofit social enterprise that assists its nonprofit members in helping people build strong credit and financial assets. With over 450 members nation-wide, CBA promotes credit building through its Access and Reporter programs, in addition to offering training and consulting services.

If your organization is interested in reporting loans but can't make this training, feel free to reach out to CBA directly. Email membership@creditbuildersalliance.org for more information.